DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
  - I. Claims 1-70, drawn to compositions comprising a polymer in aqueous dispersion and two organic solvents, classified in class 424, subclass 401.
  - II. Claims 71-76, drawn to methods for making up keratinous material or forming a film on keratinous material, classified in class 424, subclass 401.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case, the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process. For example, Thames et al (US Pat. 6,203,720) discloses latex compositions which form films at low MFT and cure to above ambient Tg polymers (see abstract). The compositions further comprise nonionic surfactants that meet the limitation of additional organic solvents (see col. 13, lines 1-45). The compositions of Thames are used in waterborne coatings, pressure sensitive adhesives, and inks (see abstract).

Art Unit: 1617

3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group II is not required for Group I, there exists a burden to search both groups. Therefore, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. Claims 1-76 are generic to a plurality of disclosed patentably distinct species of polymer and first and second organic solvents. The large number of species encompassed by the claims constitutes a serious burden on the Examiner. Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species of polymer, a single disclosed species of first organic solvent, and a single disclosed species of second organic solvent, even though this requirement is traversed. By single species is meant a single polymer and two separate solvents. The polymer can be identified by the following: 1) by naming the polymer according to IUPAC standards, 2) by pictorial representation, 3) by identifying all of the monomeric units of the polymer, or 4) by identifying an example or claim that sets forth a single polymer.

5. Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention. Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

6. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
